Message from the Deputy Secretary Crown Lands and Local Government

Melanie Hawyes
Deputy Secretary Crown Lands
and Local Government

I am proud to present the Office of Local Government's Strategic Plan 2022-2026.

The Strategic Plan provides a clear roadmap for the Office of Local Government (OLG).

It defines our short and long-term vision, priority goals and the strategies that will help us achieve them.

The OLG is a key conduit between the NSW Government and the local government sector, serving as regulator and trusted advisor to our state's local councils, county councils and joint organisations.

By supporting our councils and helping grow their capacity we can ensure a robust and sustainable local government sector, which will ultimately deliver strong and vibrant communities for people across NSW.

Message from the Executive Director Office of Local Government

Ally Dench
Executive Director
Office of Local Government

Our aim is to strike the right mix of monitoring, intervention, capability improvement and engagement activities

I am excited to deliver the Office of Local Government's Strategic Plan 2022-2026, outlining our vision, goals and strategies that will guide our agency over the next four years.

The plan has been developed to ensure our agency is in the best possible position to become a trusted regulator and capacity builder for the Local Government sector. We want to enable councils to better serve their communities and this plan will underpin our efforts to deliver effective and targeted initiatives to strengthen their capacity

The Office is committed to stronger collaboration with local councils, county councils, joint organisations and peak sector bodies to help inform the Government's policy and regulatory frameworks. We will build strong relationships and partner in the delivery of important Government initiatives and State priorities across NSW communities.

This strategic plan provides a framework and serves as an important guide to help the agency succeed in the face of many challenges ahead and by living the values, we will foster unity and find opportunities to strengthen our capacity to proactively manage the risks we face.

Over the next four years, our six goals will help us focus on promoting the sound development of policy and regulatory frameworks, build capacity, deliver positive customer experiences, manage risks, value, and invest in our people, systems and processes and build strong stakeholder relationships in all that we will do.

Our aim is to strike the right mix of monitoring, intervention, capability improvement and engagement activities and through investing in our people, we will build a professional and accountable organisation with a strong reputation for delivery and excellence.

I would like to thank my staff for contributing to our new plan, and for their ongoing dedication and commitment to serving the people of NSW.

How we will implement

Working with others through supporting strategies

This plan is intended to complement the NSW State Plan and NSW Premier's Priorities to ensure every local council has access to the support and advice required to deliver appropriate administration of their local government area.

The plan also supports the Intergovernmental Agreement between State and local Government with the commitment to Councils for funding to assist infrastructure and services to communities and in support of the Premier's Priorities.

In addition, it also complements the Minister for Local Government priorities of strong engagement of stakeholders in the administration of local government, provision of support to local government communities and improvement of local government levels of integrity and performance.

Measuring, reporting and evaluation

The Office of Local Government will regularly report and evaluate progress towards the six goals and supporting strategies. The Office of Local Government reports regularly to the NSW Government on priority outcomes through NSW Treasury State Outcomes and Program Performance measures. These relate to the State Outcome of create a strong and liveable NSW.

Progress reporting will be contained within the agency's annual report and on the Office of Local Government's website.
