

NSW SWIMMING POOL REGISTER
FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

General
Question	Answer
What is the definition of a swimming pool?	The Swimming Pools Act describes a swimming pool as an excavation, structure or vessel: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • that is capable of being filled with water to a depth of greater than 300 millimetres • that is solely or principally used, or that is designed, manufactured or adapted to be solely or principally used for the purpose of swimming, wading, paddling or any other human aquatic activity. A spa pool is classified as a swimming pool by the Act. The definition of a spa includes any excavation, structure or vessel in the nature of a spa pool, flotation tank, tub or the like, but not a spa bath.
What changes have been made to fencing requirements in the Swimming Pools Amendment Act 2012 ?	None. The requirements for fencing remain the same as prior to the Swimming Pools Amendment Act 2012.
Do I need to fence (install a child-resistance barrier for) my fish pond?	No. If a fish pond has been designed, manufactured or adapted to be solely or principally used as a fish pond, then no child-resistant barrier is required.
Do I need to fence (install a child-resistance barrier for) my spa?	You need to fence your spa pool if it is not covered and secured by a lockable child-safe structure (such as a door, lid, grille or mesh).
Does my portable pool need to be fenced (have a child-resistant barrier installed)?	Yes. By definition, a portable pool is a swimming pool and is required to be fenced (child-resistant barrier). The fence/barrier has to meet the requirements of Standard AS 1926-1 (Building Code of Australia).
Will pool owners with existing pools that have exemptions for fencing requirements now be required to upgrade their pool barriers?	No. However, if a pool owner has voluntarily fenced the pool or has made substantial changes, then the exemption is voided and the pool must meet the current fencing requirements.

Whose responsibility is it to make sure children are safe around private pools?	While the Government provides the legislative framework to ensure a high standard of private pool barrier fencing, ultimate responsibility for pool safety lies with pool owner/s to ensure that their pool barriers comply with the prescribed standard, and with parents and carers of young children to ensure that they are adequately supervised around pools at all times.
Can I get a Compliance Certificate for peace of mind, even if I'm not selling or leasing my property?	Yes You can organise for a private certifier or a council officer to inspect your pool. A fee will be charged.
How do I find out which Australian Standard applies to my pool fence?	Checklists are available at: www.dlg.nsw.gov.au and www.swimmingpoolregister.nsw.gov.au .

Swimming Pool Register
Question	Answer
How do I register my pool?	Swimming pools are to be registered at www.swimmingpoolregister.nsw.gov.au . Your local council can do this on your behalf for a fee of up to $10.00.
What information do I need to register my swimming pool?	You will be required to enter your name, address, contact details, the type of pool, and the approximate age of pool. You will need to complete a self-assessment checklist about your pool.
Will I incur a fine if I get my self-assessment wrong?	No. It is a self-assessment only.
What does a 'self-assessment' entail?	You will use a simple checklist to self-assess if your pool fence meets the appropriate Australian Standards.
When do I have to register my pool?	The Register will be available from 29 April 2013 and pool owners will have until the 29 October 2013 to register their pool on-line.
Will I be fined if I don't register my pool?	From 29 October 2013, authorised officers may fine pool owners if their pool is not registered on the NSW Swimming Pool Register. The fine is $220.00. In the event that an inspector refers the matter to court, a fine of up to a maximum of $2,200 may be imposed.
How much will it cost me to register my swimming pool?	There is no fee to register your swimming pool on-line.

	Your local council may charge you up to $10.00 if you ask them to register your pool on your behalf.
I have recently purchased a property that has a swimming pool. What do I need to do to change the registration details?	Nothing. The register is about a pool at an address. You do not need to update any ownership details. You should check the Pool Safety information checklists available from the register website
I own a home unit in a complex that has a swimming pool. Do I need a compliance certificate before I can sell or lease it?	Not yet. After 29 April 2014 you will need a pool compliance certificate to sell or lease your unit. Your body corporate or strata manager will hold the compliance certificate on behalf of all unit holders and make it available to pool owners when or if required.
How do I know if a pool has been registered?	You will be able to search the Swimming Pool Register to check if a pool is registered at that address.
I am looking at selling my property with a pool. What are my responsibilities?	From 29 October 2013, your pool must have been registered on the NSW Swimming Pool Register. From 29 April 2014, you will need to have a current swimming pool compliance certificate.
My current compliance certificate will soon expire (after three years). Do I need to get another compliance certificate before it expires?	Only tourist, visitor and multi-occupancy developments automatically need a current compliance certificate. You do not need to update your compliance certificate unless you are selling or leasing your property after 29 April 2014.
Do I need to get another compliance certificate every time I lease my property to a new tenant?	No. A compliance certificate is valid for three years.
I don't think my neighbours have registered their pool. Can I do it for them?	No. It is the owner's responsibility to do this. If you have concerns about the swimming pool's compliance, contact your local council.
My neighbour leases his property and I don't think the pool is	You should contact your local council regarding enforcement of the Swimming registered or has a compliance certificate. Who should I contact?	Pools Act.

---	------------

Pool Compliance Certificates
-------------------------------------	--

Question	Answer
Who will need a current compliance certificate?	Pools on private properties that are for sale or lease after 29 April 2014.
I have a swimming pool. Do I need a compliance certificate?	Not necessarily. Council inspection programs are to be developed in consultation with the local community, and are to be adopted and commenced by no later than 29 October 2013. Your local council's inspection policy will determine if/when your pool may be inspected.
How long is a compliance certificate valid?	A compliance certificate is valid for a period of three years, unless a subsequent inspection finds the pool to be non-compliant.
Who can provide me with a compliance certificate?	Your local council or an accredited certifier under the Building Professional Act 2005 (a Private Certifier) .
Where can I find a Private Certifier?	Your local phone book or online at www.bpb.nsw.gov.au and click on "Find a Certifier".
How much does a compliance certificate cost?	Local councils may charge a maximum of $150 for an initial inspection. If a further inspection is required, a fee of no more than $100 may be charged. Private certifiers will set their own schedule of fees.

Any other questions? Call your local Council.