

Permanent identification P1A

This form is only to be used by veterinarians and authorised identifiers to identify microchip numbers when implanting them, as required under the Companion Animals Act 1998. You must give the completed form to council within 3 days.

Pet owners must be over 18 years of age to legally own a cat or dog in NSW.

This form does not register a pet – give council a completed Pet Registration (R2) form and pay the fee to officially register your pet.

Alternatively, you can create a NSW Pet Registry profile and do this online at petregistry.olg.nsw.gov.au.

Please fill out this form in blue or black ink and in BLOCK LETTERS.

Breeders, owners, veterinarians and authorised identifiers should all keep a copy of this form for their own records.

Information for permanently identifying a litter

Veterinarians and authorised identifiers must complete this form and submit it to council when microchipping animals in a breeder's litter. Anyone whose pet has had a litter of puppies or kittens is considered a breeder in NSW. It is a breeder's responsibility to ensure litters are microchipped.

If you are microchipping a litter, please ensure the mother's microchipping number is included in this form.

Information for permanently identify an individual animal (including strays)

While it is the responsibility of those selling or giving away pets to have them microchipped, this may not always happen. Veterinarians and authorised identifiers can use this form when microchipping a single animal outside a litter, or when microchipping strays. You do not need to add the litter's mother's microchip number or BIN.

What to do next if you are selling or giving away a pet

Get a copy of the Change of owner (C3A) form online at petregistry.olg.nsw.gov.au/paper-forms or from your local council. You and the new owner must complete and sign the form. Alternatively, you can transfer ownership instantly online at petregistry.olg.nsw.gov.au.

You are responsible for sending this completed form to any local council within 14 days.
